Mattapoisett Town Meeting

by VIRGINIA ARRAL

$5 MILLION VOTED TO OPERATE TOWN GOVERNMENT

After some fancy shuffling around of the fully-packed Old Rochester Regional High School Auditorium of voters and non-voters at the Monday, May 5th, first night of the annual town meeting, the non-voters were asked to step out into the hall so that all voters could be seated. Additional chairs were placed on the stage behind the town officials to accommodate late arrivals. According to state fire laws, Fire Chief Donald Wood said there could be only a small percentage of standees in a public place.

When the approximately 600 voters were finally settled at 8 p.m. Town Moderator R. William Blasdale called for a moment of silence in memory of Winfield F. Jenney, a long-time Water Commissioner and an outspoken, devoted town meeting member, who will be sorely missed. An ORR Junior High School student chorus sang several selections before the meeting. The Rev. Paul B. Myers gave the invocation.

At the conclusion of the two nights - Monday's meeting ended after 11 p.m. and Tuesday's at 12:30 a.m. - over $5. million was voted for fiscal 1987, the ORR District School Committee was given additional funds and a controversial zoning change was passed. It proved to be a night of disruption as the Rescue Squad was called out to respond to an automobile accident on Route 6.

Voters were urged to increase the salaries of Town Treasurer/Tax Collector Kathleen Briggs from $18,000 to $20,000 and that of Town Clerk Lois Ennis from $17,000 to $19,500. in addition to an across-the-board five percent increase for all town employees. Although Shellfish Constable Brian Nunes asked for consideration to increase his salary by changing his job classification from administrative to managerial, voters turned him down when it was determined the salary increase would go from $12,232 to $17,000. Personnel Board Chairman Beverly Posiviata noted there are ways to increase his salary by placing him in a different pay grade rather than change his classification. Town Counsel Donald J. Fleming commented "we (the town) have lagged behind in the salaries of elected officials". Paul M. Kelley, Fire Alarm Superintendent, was voted an increase from $567. per year to $750. per year.

Because of the frustration of various town employees in seeking salary increases and in job descriptions and duties, and because Selectmen have become more involved as arbitrators in personnel decisions, Selectmen placed an article seeking to change the Personnel Board membership to consist of four unpaid members and a fifth member - a member of the Board of Selectmen. The article was indefinitely postponed. The Personnel Board Chairman, who has been a member for 12 years, did not recommend the passage, saying the Board has always been an unbiased volunteer group without an elected official. "We don't always agree with each employee, but we agree to listen," she said.

It was voted to raise and appropriate $5,000 to hire an independent consultant to study the salary and wage structure, employee classification and re-evaluation of all

Peter F. Coville, Mattapoisett's elected representative to the ORR District School Committee, spoke on behalf of the committee's request for additional funding. He noted the excellence of the academic as well as the extracurricular activities, such as athletics and music, making for a well-rounded education. "We have reduced our surplus revenue by $100,000 to reduce the budget and have made some serious cuts in programs. If two of the three towns in the district vote for the increase the third will have to abide by the decision - Marion previously voted its share, and now I urge you to echo Marion's vote," Coville said. If not voted, he added, there could be a loss of accreditation or close the doors.

Joao Rodrigues, athletic director, Junior High principal Robert Gardner, Professor Vincent Worden and Joan Walsh, Superintendent of Schools, all spoke on behalf of the additional funding.

Michael O'Brien, chairman of the Finance Committee, said the increase will have a devastating effect on Rochester, the third member of the district. The Finance Committee recommended a 5.8 percent increase, from $1,153,379 to $1,220,747, considering the student population has decreased two percent over last year and considering Rochester's ability to pay. However, the unanimous vote was passed to increase the school budget to $1,283,249 as Mattapoisett's share.

was given a small boost with an increase from $1,355,055 to $1,380,055.

The impassioned pleas to voters to accept a zoning map change from Marine Residence (MR) to Waterfront 30 (W30) at Molly's Cove was made by several of the petitioners. Russell LaFrance of 6 Dyar Road gave a background on the six years the residents of the area have have been attempting to keep the area from having a commercial marina. Asked by a voter if this change would represent spot zoning, Town Counsel Fleming said it would not. "If it were, the State Attorney General would deny the article change."

Greer Ellis, an avid fisherman, spoke and displayed charts on present moorings in the harbor and the potential hazards of additional moorings on the Mattapoisett Neck side of the harbor. "We need the space for small boatowners to fish and sailboats to sail for recreation." He urged the change in zoning to keep the number of moorings within limit and eliminate the threat of a marina there.

Ralph Eustis spoke as a fisherman and boater, saying "we need to preserve the use and maximum benefit of the harbor". He recommended a Harbor Commission be appointed to study how we use our harbor. Andrew Lynch, recreational boater, said there is a geographical limitation of the harbor, especially during a storm when boats come ashore. He felt it would be detrimental to beaches and shellfish. Additional comments were made and summarized by Peter Trow.

Jay Mansfield, who with his father, William Mansfield, has been attempting to place moorings in the Molly's Cove areas, said he wanted to correct a report listing 300 moorings he was looking for from the Army Corps of Engineers. He claimed the number was 50 moorings, not 300. He noted that the shellfish in Brandt Island Cove area and Mattapoisett Boatyard area have not been damaged by the mooring of boats. Mansfield called this article spot zoning and a detriment to those not fortunate enough to be living near the water. William Mansfield said, "This litigation has cost the taxpayers $18,000 in court costs in the past years." He added, "Think carefully before you vote - where will more boat owners go?" Mansfield asked to have a secret ballot on the vote, but it was denied by 17 votes. The moderator explained it had to be a majority of 25 votes to call for a secret ballot.

Several articles were indefinitely postponed. However, Moderator Blasdale noted "that even though the petitioners didn't feel they would pass this year because of the cost, they were brought to the voters' attention to alert them of the town's future needs. They will come up again sooner or later," he said.

One of the major requests postponed was the Water/Sewer Commissioner's request for the construction of a corrosion control facility to adjust the Ph of the water entering the town's water system. Superintendent William Nicholson and two representatives from Whitman and Howard, Inc., the firm who conducted a corrosion study of the distribution system, copper plumbing and individual water services, explained the problem and said hydrated lime would be added to the system and would remove carbon dioxide and, in turn, raise the Ph and lower the corrosion in the water supply. Estimated cost of construction, fees and one year's supply of lime was given as $104,000. "Nick" said one facility would feed both wells. The cost of 80 cents on the water bill for operation and a 15-year bond vote would cost $6. per year per household. He assured the voters, "this problem of green stains in your tub and sink and hair turning green will not go away". Daune Smith expressed her personal concern with her and her children's blond hair turning green, which it has been doing for over a year.

A second postponed request was that of the Mattapoisett School Committee's for major repairs needed for Center and Old Hammondtown Schools. Dorothea Pierce of the committee asked for $274,000 for capital improvements and $38,360 for services to the schools' boilers and roof repair.

Other articles postponed included the Town Clerk's request for $4,500 for fire doors on the Town Hall vault and the Board of Assessors' request for $42,000 for fiscal 1988 re-evaluation. This state-mandated revaluation has to be done every three years and the request may come up at a special town meeting in the fall. A request from Fire Alarm Superintendent Kelley for $500. to purchase a 1961 van with hydraulic bucket was defeated. John Bowman, town mechanic, gave a conditional okay on the van but said it was old and needed some repair. Selectmen did not recommend it as they felt it would be a step backward because of the van's age and condition.

Also indefinitely postponed was the Water/ Sewer Commissioners' request for $110,000 for sewer treatment expansion to coincide

An article to authorize the Commissioners to grant a utility easement to Fairhaven or ComElectric for over or underground electric lines was passed. An amendment recommended by Peter Coville to have the word "over" removed so it read only underground lines was defeated. Town Counsel Fleming explained "we may need Fairhaven's cooperation if we should need to run lines on their town-owned land, so we don't want to restrict their ability to run lines".

Funding for the fire pumper ($38,000), equipment for the pumper ($14,000) and two marked police cruisers ($23,300) was voted to be transferred from the Stabilization Fund. Originally recommended by the Finance Committee to be raised and appropriated, the passage of the ORR increase budget necessitated funding for these articles be taken from the Stabilization Fund that can only be used for capital items.

At the recommendation of Police Chief James Moran, the Selectmen will be authorized to trade or sell one 1984 cruiser (rather than a 1985 originally recommended) and one 1981 fire chief's cruiser. This money will be applied to the purchase of the new cruisers and the changeover of radios and accessories.

The two fire engines are 32 and 22 years old, but due to fiscal restraints only one replacement was sought this year. The $38,000 will cover the first year's payment of a five-year lease purchase agreement.

Special articles voted to be funded from Free Cash included: $15,498.14, Reserve Fund; $9,643.83, Mattapoisett's share of the roof repair to the ORR High School; this figure will be subject to Marion and Rochester voting their share; $3,000 (to be added to $2,000 raised & appropriated) for a police station evaluation study; $1,000, Rape Crisis Center; and $250. for two street lights. The lights will be placed on Long Plain Road where there have been several accidents, and on Industrial Drive.

Police Lt. James Santos, chairman of the police station study committee, recommended amending the article for $5,000 rather than $2,000, citing the need for engineering advice as costly. He noted the ongoing need for additional space in the police station has been realized since the 1965 Master Plan and added that the funds are for "development of cost data, estimated, preliminary design and specification of the alternatives to be defined by the Police Station Evaluation and Needs Study Committee".

Not funded were requests for either $5,000 or $1,500 for the Zeiterion Theater and an unspecified amount for Twin Services.

The transfer of Overlay Surplus Funds was voted: $12,928.41 into the Reserve Fund for emergencies, and $21,124.35 to cover unanticipated increase in insurance costs for fiscal 1986.

The total recommended budget to be raised and appropriated by taxation is $4,866,699, plus transfers resulted in a Total Maintenance and Operating Budget of $4,991,499. This figure does not include special articles.

Funds raised and appropriated for Special Articles includes: $11,573.45, Reserve Fund; $9,000, grant application fees for rehabilitation of the North Street sewer; $5,000, personnel wage study; $2,800, mosquito control; $2,000, police station study (to be added to $3,000 from free cash); $1,000, generator repair; $1,000, televising and inspecting sewer pipes; $1,000, pollution study of storm drains and natural waterways and $500. to establish a fund to cover individual indemnity agreements with members of the call fire department and part-time police officers. lectmen to procure a work-related disability insurance policy.

Of the three streets sought by petitioners to be accepted, only Driscoll Lane was approved; Stoney Hill Road and Pine Wood Way were indefinitely postponed until such time as the developer James Bungert brings the roads up to town requirements. A proposal to rebuild Holly Woods Road was defeated.

Frustrated voters asked for and received with a two-thirds vote (147 to 69) to reconsider an article placed by Mr. and Mrs. Purnell Guard to have Selectmen grant them the use of the existing railroad right-of-way for access and frontage to a lot owned by them at the rear of 22 Park Street.

Moderator Blasdale explained a motion to vote on an article cut off debate, even though several voters were upset by their inability to ask questions. Guard apologized for the confusion saying he didn't realize it would create such a problem. He noted there was only room for one house and he must go before the Planning Board before he can build.

A voter expressed his opinion that Guard wants to drive his fuel truck on the road and that Guard is using the land illegally to keep oil trucks in a R30 zone. Guard responded saying the Building Inspector told him his oil trucks could be kept there on the condition that they are under cover. Water/Sewer Superintendent Nicholson said there is the possibility the right-of-way will be used for future sewer or water line expansion. Town Counsel said this would not create a problem if the article passed. It passed both times.

Non-money articles passed included: Selectmen's recommendation for a general by-law to prevent motorized vehicles on beaches, parks and town property; to allow the Selectmen to refuse to grant licenses or permit renewals to persons not paying local taxes, fees or assessments; to allow the town to have more home rule on setting dog licenses; to allow Old Colony Vocational School to accept a $1,961 state grant; to allow the Selectmen to convey property at 67 Church Street to Aurisia C. Gomes. Town Counsel explained "we have negotiated a fair price with her attorney, Robert C. Moore, for the one acre and house that will be beneficial to all. It has been a confusing estate because of late arrival heirs," Fleming said. It was also voted to allow the Town Treasurer to enter a compensating balance agreement with banks. Town Counsel explained this hastily adopted state law will not cost the town any money, but will keep the bureaucrats happy.

After the lengthy discussion of the Old Rochester School District budget increase, a non-binding resolution was passed "to direcet the Board of Selectmen to reestablish the ORR Financial Advisory Committee".

Peter Kortright asked for a sense of the meeting resolution to establish a Growth Management Study Committee. The voters agreed and Selectmen will be guided by the vote. He noted Mattapoisett is growing at a fast pace and recommended the committee report to Selectmen on town management approach to its growth.

Finance Committee Chairman O'Brien said the meeting concluded with the budget staying just within Proposition 2½ and with only $5,800 remaining in free cash.

Land Trust Program Thursday

The pressures of rapid development continue to affect Mattapoisett and threaten our wildlife, natural resources, and natural beauty. The Trust's goal for 1986 is to help reduce the impact of development, and three action plans have been developed to fit this theme:

1. Acquire and preserve open land for the enjoyment of the people of Mattapoisett and for the protection of our natural resources.
2. Help to maintain the character and charm of Mattapoisett.
3. Educate everyone on the value and urgency of conservation and the dangers inherent in rapid, uncontrolled development.

These goals are the theme for the Land Trust's annual meeting, and everyone is invited to attend the meeting at the Congregational Church in Mattapoisett on Thursday, May 15th, at 7:30 p.m. The guest speaker will be Dr. Alan Hankin, Director of the Lloyd Center for Environmental Studies in South Dartmouth.

The Lloyd Center has just completed a comprehensive study of the Mattapoisett shoreline, focusing on our many acres of salt marshes. These marshes are threatened greatly by development, and Dr. Hankin will discuss their nature and biological diversity, the impacts of building and population growth and the many reasons why these unique habitats should be preserved. The Lloyd Center has compiled a wealth of maps, photographs, and data in their study, and the talk will be a lively and informative one.

Membership in the Land Trust is available for five dollars per individual or ten dollars per family. Memberships will be available at the annual meeting and can also be obtained by writing to the Mattapoisett Land Trust at Box 31, Mattapoisett, MA. 02739.

The Mattapoisett Land Trust is dedicated to preserving the natural heritage of our land.

Christian Church Meeting

SERVICE THIS SUNDAY AFTERNOON

A service will be held in the old Christian Church Meetinghouse this Sunday afternoon, May 18th, at 4 o'clock. This building on Church Street, near the Town Hall, is now the home of the Mattapoisett Historical Society rent free, and is administered by the trustees of the Faunce Fund.

The following quotation gives the historical and spiritual setting for this occasion: "This building erected in 1821, at a cost of $1156., is the oldest religious building in present use in Mattapoisett." A fund established by Edward P. Faunce, grandson of Elder William Faunce, minister of the church 1864-1898, designated that the building is to be used "for religious, educational, scientific and historical purposes of and for the Mattapoisett community".

Come to worship and pray (and learn).

"Georgie" Comes to Rochester

GEORGIE, THE FOUR-EYED BEAR
AT ROCHESTER MEMORIAL SCHOOL

"Georgie the Four-Eyed Bear" will appear at Rochester Memorial School on Tuesday, May 20th, at 10 o'clock to entertain children in grades kindergarten through third. The show will be in the Rochester Memorial School Cafetorium and is being sponsored by the Rochester Memorial P.T.A. It is partly funded by the Institute for the Arts.

George Tanous, who plays Georgie the Bear, is a talented musician and singer who is legally blind. His program focuses on the positive and negative points of being handicapped while providing the children with a rousing and informative (vocal and instrumental) show. He appears on stage with his backup band of drums and keyboard, dressed as Georgie the Four Eyed Bear. His performance is generously sprinkled with one-liners and gags that draw peals of laughter and keeps the audience right in the palm of his paw.

Each show closes with questions from the audience. This is a heartwarming experience for children of all ages.

"Georgie the Four-Eyed Bear" is supported by the Institute for the Arts which is funded by the Massachusetts Council on the Arts

HOT SPOT ZONING

The latest maneuver by a handful of neighbors and abutters in a long-standing vendetta against Bill and Jay Mansfield's attempts to use their land and pier as a marina on the west side of Mattapoisett Harbor, was to engineer the rezoning into strictly residential of every last scrap of land on the west side, where use for a marina was to be allowed, if authorized by the Appeals Board. They mounted an advertising campaign filled with unsubstantiated assertions which pulled out all the stops: bumper to bumper auto traffic, lowered property values, no room left to sail, environmental concerns, and finally, snob appeal, or just plain "I've got mine - tough luck to you"; and they stampeded an overwhelming majority of town meeting members into an intemperate trampling of the Zoning Law as written and an unwarranted destruction of confidence in the zoning mechanism, including its elected boards.

Curiously, these people who love to hate the Mansfields' marina plan only succeeded in grandfathering it, as the town counsel allowed, into a lone, nonconforming use on the west shore of the harbor - assuming that the Mansfields prevail in their legal contest, in which they won the last two rounds and probably will any to follow. That will make the affair a continued hot spot under the collar of the principal objectors, spot zoning in effect for the rest of us, and a further expense to the town if it indulges in more of its fruitless litigation that only a lawyer could love.

What caused the area from Molly's Cove to Mattapoisett Shores to be left open to use, "if authorized by the Appeals Board" for "inns, hotels, and marinas"? As a member of the committee which wrote the original zoning law circa 1967, let me say that we studied the harbor and found this to be the only largely undeveloped area left which would be suitable for such amenities, which, historically, have been common and desirable uses of harbor waterfront property. At the same time, we zoned Mattapoisett Boatyard as nonconforming, simply because it was an anomaly in the midst of an old, well es-

Some of the facts which influenced our decision that this west side area was more suitable for marinas than the east side were:

1. The west side was, and is, less developed or congested, and the land values lower.
2. The west side is more sheltered and calmer for boats in the prevailing south west summer and westerly fall breezes.
3. The east side is more highly desirable for residences because of the same breeze which cools it and often sweeps away mosquitoes near the shore.
4. The west side was slower to develop because of no town water past Molly's Cove and no sewer system.
5. All of the other suitable areas for marina use were so shallow that it would cost a fortune to dredge them out.
6. There is no calm place in this harbor for a boat in a south easter, except Eel Pond, and not there in a hurricane; but we did not think that fact would keep people from wanting to moor their boats here, and probably in greater numbers some day than Mattapoisett Boatyard or the Town Docks could handle; and we thought we ought to provide the zoning for it.

So, here we are 19 years later, the same facts about suitable marina location more true than ever, and the willing owners of a prime spot for one that would help balance the hitherto topsy turvy use of the harbor being yo-yoed around, while every newly moored boat is accessed from the Town Docks and Mattapoisett Boatyard, and located, of course, as close to them as possible in the same overcrowded, less well suited area along the east shore.

LETTER TO THE EDITOR

After listening at the Town Meeting in Mattapoisett to the complexities of a complicated layout procedure, it would seem that a simple form could be formulated that could be given out to anyone seeking to have a road accepted by the town.

I may at times fall prey to a description I heard on the radio one time - "In one ear and lost forever". However, as near as I can figure you have to go the Planning Board, if you get by there successfully you tackle the Board of Selectmen, one or more who go out to the road in question to look it over to see if they would recommend or agree that it could be accepted at a town meeting if a correct article had been inserted in the warrant. About the last two articles to be voted on was to accept two road layouts. It would seem if everyone's efforts had been synchronized, that the Selectmen could have said a loud "no", that the condition would not get their approval in the roads because of the present condition without which the town could not accept the road. It would have saved printing costs, town meeting time and a lot of frustrated and hurt feelings. The main idea was that the surface was bad

- maybe a substandard base which could have allowed large rocks to push up from frost action plus a poor pitch and drainage problem. The word "layout" was so bandied back and forth that it obscured the fact that it was the condition of the road that seemed to be the hold-up. It became apparent that the word "layout" covered almost everything but the "kitchen sink".

If the road was to be turned down, the petitioners should have been given a paper stating what things needed correcting.

YES - NO - NEW BASE NEEDED
YES - NO - DRAINAGE - WHAT NECESSARY
YES - NO - PITCH PROBLEM

and any other condition noted, so things could be corrected if the petitioners wanted to go to the expense. For some reason a communication break-down was apparent.

The expressions of support for Old Rochester on Town Meeting floor were sincere and often moving, and should help keep us all going in the coming year. We face twelve months of hard thinking and planning together if we are to avert another and worse crisis in 1987. The words spoken and the actions taken at Mattapoisett's and at Marion's Town Meetings are an excellent beginning.

SENIOR AT ORR SELECTED TO PARTICIPATE IN N.E. YOUNG WRITERS' CONFERENCE

A senior at Old Rochester Regional High School, Gerry LeBlanc, has been selected to participate in the New England Young Writers' Conference at Bread Loaf, Vermont. The selection process for the prestigious conference is very competitive. LeBlanc, a student in Mrs. Teresa Pawelczyk's Advanced Placement English class, will be among 200 high school student writers from 120 different schools in six states who will be learning and working together under the guidance of professional writers on the renowned Bread Loaf campus May 16, 17 and 18.

For decades, each summer Bread Loaf has hosted such famous American writers as Robert Frost, Carl Sandburg, and John Ciardi. While at the conference, LeBlanc and his fellow writers will attend writing workshops and technique workshops with professional writers, will hear the guest writers read from their works, will present their own writings, and will attend a costume party and reception. The student writers must take with them finished works and works-in-progress.

In order to be considered for the Young Writers' Conference, LeBlanc had to submit two original works in the same genre, complete an application, and write an essay on "Why I Am a Writer". Mrs. Pawelczyk also had to submit a letter recommending her student and explaining why he would be a good candidate for the conference. LeBlanc is a poet, and he sent two of his poems for consideration, one of which will be published in the conference anthology.

Mrs. Pawelczyk commented on LeBlanc's selection, "Gerry is an excellent poet with tremendous potential. I knew his poetry was very good, but it was still good to have that affirmed on such a competitive level. Bread Loaf has a lot to offer Gerry at this point in his writing and Gerry has a lot to offer Bread Loaf."

LeBlanc is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Harold LeBlanc of Marion. In September he will attend the University of Massachusetts at Amherst as an English major.

Paskamansett Bird Club

AUDUBON SPRING CENSUS

Local birders will join together for the annual Audubon Spring Census of wild birds in the area on Saturday, May 17th, starting at 7:30 a.m. By tradition the quest will begin on Turtle Rock Farm, 345 Pine Hill Road, Westport, homestead of Julius T. Smith, now deceased, founder of Paskamansett Bird Club more than 20 years ago. Jean Parsons, a daughter of "J.T.", as the beloved patriarch was known to his scores of friends and followers, will be leader of the birdwalk and hostess at the forenoon coffee and recapitulation that follows. Besides members, friends and guests of the club are cordially invited to join the group.

Despite a cold, wet spring, good numbers of birds are anticipated for the May 17th canvass. Many migrants have returned on schedule, as evidenced by observations made by club members and friends on the first weekend walks in May and during the ensuing days.

As many as 60 species have recently been sighted in South Dartmouth, including some uncommon birds such as Red-bellied Woodpecker, Rose-breasted Grosbeaks, Evening Grosbeaks, Orchard Orioles, Prothonotary Warbler, White-crowned Sparrow, Blue-grey Gnatcatcher, a male Northern Harrier, Pine Siskins and Turkey Vultures.

One club member reported the witnessing of the desecration by a Herring Gull of an Osprey nest on a platform erected beside Allen's Pond. The gull drove the incubating, defenseless fish hawk off the nest in a sudden surprise attack, then went for the eggs, eating the contents of at least one, while two others were destroyed when pushed up onto the rim of the nest and down into the marsh below.

Many hundreds of these gulls and the Great Black-back species hunt the water's edges and shallows for fish, various crustaceans and shellfish, notably crabs and quahogs. Since the day that trash incineration became illegal, local residents have witnessed an alarming proliferation of this aggressive but legally protected species.

Memorial Society

Now nine years old, the Memorial Society of Greater New Bedford, Inc., a non-profit organization, continues to provide information to area residents on planning their own funerals well ahead of the event as they would wish them to be.

Too frequently grief-stricken family members are called on to make decisions about funeral services and interment for a loved one without having much idea about what the deceased would want. Too often family members feel mistakenly that they are showing their love by expensive arrangements which they can ill afford, whereas many people wish their last rites to be conducted without ostentation or display.

By joining the Memorial Society members are forwarded a packet with alternative plans

"AFTER THE CHINESE TASTE"

Heritage Plantation of Sandwich on Cape Cod opened for its 18th season on Mother's Day, Sunday, May 11th, with a major new exhibition. "After the Chinese Taste" is a three part show which highlights the artistic achievements of the Chinese culture from the third millenium B.C. to the 19th century. This will present a rare opportunity to view the magnificence of Chinese art and designs through many centuries. The show will run through October 26.

The exhibit showcases some of the splendid objects brought to the Western market as a result of the great China trade and interprets the impact of Chinese art on the design and construction of American made products from the 18th to the 20th centuries.

Featured in the central section of the spectacular display in the North Wing of the Art Museum will be 33 indigenous Chinese artifacts including jade, bronze vessels, ceramics and paintings on loan to Heritage Plantation from the Eli Lilly Collection of Chinese Art at the Indianapolis Museum of Art. The artifacts chosen from the Lilly Collection for exhibition at the Museum will provide graphic examples of the infinite skills of Chinese artisans and craftsmen. Almost all of the pieces or works of art were made for domestic use. Many were uncovered at tomb excavations or other archaeological sites.

Another segment of the display drawn from the Asian Export collections of the Peabody Museum of Salem details the variety of items including paintings, porcelains and furniture imported by Americans through the China trade.

The final section of the exhibition consists of American made pieces and assesses the impact of Chinese design concepts on American industry. It also traces America's views of and relationships with the Chinese people.

This portion of the show was researched and designed by Ellen Denker, Guest Curator of "Chinese Influence on Amerian Life" at the Peabody Museum. It was funded in part by a grant from the National Endowment for the Arts and is co-sponsored by Heritage Plantation and the Peabody Museum in Salem.

Ms. Denker identifies three distinct periods in America's relationship with China. At first, during the period from 1730 to 1787, Europeans and Americans responded to the influence of Chinese trade goods with a romantic image of "The Celestial Empire". The fantasy was cast in the form of decorative arts which Ms. Denker calls "loosely if at all based on actual Chinese models".

From the 1780s until the 1860s Americans developed independent views of China based on direct trade. However, there was little innovation in the decorative arts during these years.

In the third period starting in the 1860s American views of China and its people changed significantly. "Americans were face to face with a new group of immigrants," Ms. Denker relates. "Chinese lifeways contrasted sharply with Western values." At the same time she notes, "The new availability of Chinese indigenous art objects inspired American designers and craftsmen to adapt Chinese motifs to a wide variety of materials. A checklist of the artifacts on loan from the Indianapolis Museum of Art is available, as is the catalog, "After the Chinese Taste", which is funded in part by a grant from the National Endowment for the Arts. Both are on sale at the Heritage Plantation.

A second important exhibition, "Civil War on Land and Sea", will be on display throughout the season at the Military Museum. This show which commemorates the 125th anniversary of the outbreak of the American Civil War on April 12, 1861 offers a diversified display of objects and equipment including uniforms, weapons, maps and documents.

Visitors and members alike will enjoy the recent new addition to the automobile collection in the Shaker Round Barn of a 1930 Lincoln Sport Touring car in remarkably fine condition. Weighing close to three tons, the automobile was built by the Ford Motor Company as its top-of-the-line car for that period. The original factory price was $4,200. Another new display in the Art Museum on loan from Mrs. George Otis is a collection of amber glass and is shown with Heritage's collection of Sandwich Glass giving the entrance foyer to the premier exhibit a new look.

Heritage Plantation is open daily 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. May 11 through October 26. In addition to its art, military and automotive permanent collections, the Museum features 76 acres of award-winning gardens and trails, a working windmill and carousel and a picnic area. Nineteen special summer events plus lectures, gallery talks and more are scheduled for the 1986 season. Share with our visitors the lore and legends of New Bedford; stroll past the Seamen's Bethel where Herman Melville worshipped, past the bank where Hetty Green, "The Witch of Wall Street", banked her fortune, past buildings rebuilt after the tragic 1976 gas explosion that rocked historic Johnny Cake Hill and past the magnificent buildings and homes now enjoying fresh use as commercial and retail spaces.

Today, New Bedford is thriving. The tourism economy is strong, the fishing port the most successful in America, and the Historic District beautifully restored by the Waterfront Historic Area League (WHALE). There is much to be proud of, much to show and much to talk about.

Walking Tour Guides volunteer during July and August. For further information please call Mrs. Jeffries at 999-2174 or Mrs. Howard at 997-0046. Students are welcome to join.

MIGRATING SONGBIRDS

During the month of May, numerous species of warblers and other songbirds pass through this area on the journey to their nesting grounds. These small birds are often hard to see but their distinctive mellifluous voices help in locating and identifying them. On Sunday, May 18th, the Lloyd Center for Environmental Studies, 430 Potomska Road, South Dartmouth will offer a special walk in search of these birds. Lloyd Center volunteer Robert Deegan will share his expertise in the identification of these species both by sight and by sound. There is no fee for this walk. However, due to group size limitation, pre-registration is required. To register please call 990-0505. Participants should meet at the Lloyd Center at 7:00 a.m.

Upcoming weekly walks will include Where the River Meets the Sea, Estuarine Fish Life on Sunday, May 25th, and a First-Sunday-of-the Month Birdwalk on Sunday, June 1st. There is no cost for the weekly walks thanks to a contribution from Marianne Macdonald Real Estate.

For additional information on this or any other Lloyd Center activity, call the

In Mattapoisett's loveliest area, we offer this executive Cape beautifully situated with handsome landscaping and old stone walls.
